

Computer Science and Engineering Department

Following the success of the ERASMUS Intensive Programme in Information and Communication Technology Security, the Computer Science and Engineering Department at Frederick University in collaboration with Munich University of Applied Sciences (Germany), Metropolia University of Applied Sciences (Finland), the University of Cantabria (Spain), the University of Glamorgan (UK) and the University of Padua (Italy) organise:

Intensive Programme (IP) in Secure Web Applications (SWEB): Best Practices for Protection and Development

11 – 24 May 2014

Santander, Spain

Topics:

- Information Security Threats
- Web Application Attacks
- Social Networks Security Threats
- Network Security Vulnerabilities
- Attacks on the Enterprise Network Platform Security
- Develop Secure Network Applications
- Protection of the Applications and of Network Access
- Context of IT Security

Presentation Thursday, 31 Oct. 2013, 10:20

Main Building, Computer Lab 1

Teleconferencing with Limassol Campus

Apply Now! Deadline 15 Nov. 2013, 15:00

http://staff.fit.ac.cy/com.mc/ip_in_sweb.php

2nd, 3rd, and 4th Year CSED Students

100111011001
110111101001
11110110
00100111
100011
110101
110111
100111011001
110111101001
111101100010
11110001000
001011011001
011101101100
1
0
0
1
101110111101
0
110
101
10
11
0001
0011
10101
11010
01101
01111
111011011010
011111000011
100111011001